are Wesley H. Glan, W. Norbury and G. W. Chaney. Florence Cole, the first to take a horse look, Saturday afternoon (Sept. 10) was the first to claim this outcome of the discussion merits of the different sailing horses. She was followed by Chaney, who suggests a set race and have the horses sail together. Chaney and Glan are together in the lead. A row boat race is expected Saturday afternoon. Little village, during Saturday afternoon.

Saturday night there was considerable interest manifested in the result of the international yacht race off New York. When the news came that the American Defender had beaten the Scotchman's Skyrie by nearly nine minutes there was much pleasure expressed. The Englishman who had bet on the foreigner was defeated in consequence.
